National Genealogical Society is an indispensable resource for family historians and genealogists.

A non-profit organization founded in 1903, the National Genealogical Society (NGS) is the premier American national society for everyone from the beginner to the most advanced family historian.

NGS serves its Members by

- providing genealogical skill development through information, education, publications, an annual conference, and guided research trips
- establishing and promoting the highest standards of ethical research and practices
- promoting access to, and preservation of, genealogical records
- providing the tools to help you discover more about your family history.
